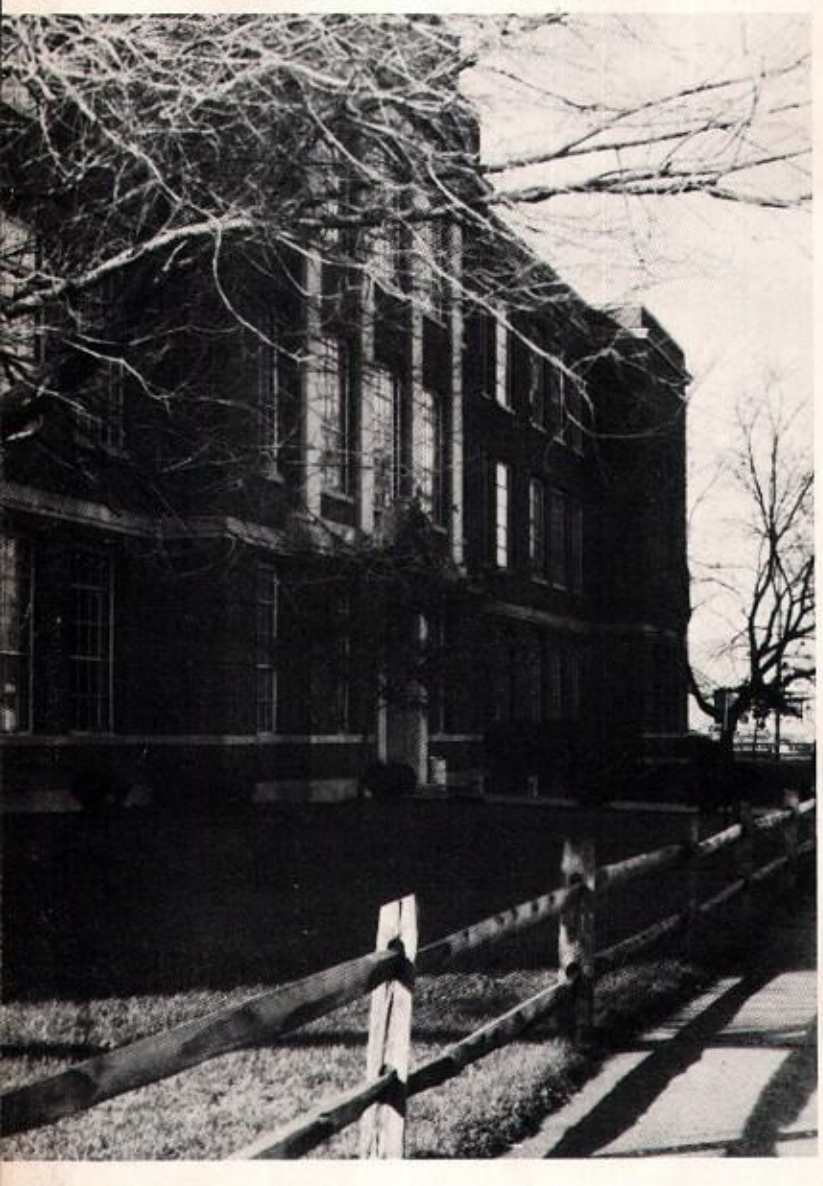
SCHS CELEBRATES 1976 BY A GLIMPSE INTO THE PAST . . .



HISTORY

When South Charleston High School first opened its doors in September of 1926, it was located at E Street and Third Avenue and was known as LOUDON DISTRICT HIGH SCHOOL. The school consisted of six grades with a total enrollment of 296. In October of 1931 the school moved to C Street and Third Avenue and had grown to an enrollment of 650. Originally two schools were planned for the district, one in South Charleston and one in Marmet, but only the Loudon District High School was successful in being organized. In 1934, when the county unit of education was adopted, the school was officially named SOUTH CHARLESTON HIGH SCHOOL. In 1971, the school again moved to its present location on Eagle Way.

GRADUATION

The first graduation in May, 1927, was held in the old building on Third Avenue and E Street and the Commencement was given by Ex-Governor MacCorkle. Miss Clara M. Smith, the first principal of South Charleston High School, presented the one graduate, Mary Kathleen Harless her diploma. The next year the senior class had an enrollment of twelve students, but only eleven graduated due to the death of one senior. Mr. Robert L. Bryan, the newly named principal, presented the eleven members in the Class of 1928 their diplomas. The next year there were twenty-two graduates, then thirty-three, then forty-four in 1931, each of the first five years being a multiple of eleven. The Class of 1966 was the largest with 383 graduates.

SPORTS

In 1927 the first football team was organized. Before Oakes Field was built, South Charleston played its football games at Armor Park and the Valley Bell Field in Charleston. No tickets were sold; they just passed the hat. South Charleston, with a football record of 5-4-1, was one of the few schools to score against Charleston High which went on to become state runner-up in 1931. South Charleston received a statewide award for excellent sportsmanship. On February 16, 1932, SCH defeated East Bank in basketball, by a score of 17 to 15. Another game played against Elkview ended in a tie because the team rode a train to the game and it was time for the train to return, so the game had to end. In 1935 the girls of South Charleston had a second place basketball team and a championship baseball team.

SCHS THEN . . . AND NOW . . .

YEARBOOK

In 1928 South Charleston High School published its first yearbook entitled the LOUDSPEAKER. It was dedicated to the parents, sixteen teachers, Principal Robert Bryan, and Superintendent Donald McIntyre. The next year the yearbook's name was changed to the PENTAGON because of the five-sided old school building. In 1932 the name was changed again to its present name of MEMOIRS.

OUTSTANDING CONTRIBUTIONS

The first full class that completed four years at SCHS, the Class of 1930, gave South Charleston its school colors, Black and Orange; named the newspaper, the X-RAY, and ordered the first class rings.

BAND

An initial band practice, called in 1933 by Charles Gorby, was the beginning of the first band which consisted of eleven members. The small band practiced for four months, participated in the state band contest, and placed second. They wore what they had; white shirts, white pants, and black ties. The first real uniforms were bought in 1934 and consisted of black pants with an orange stripe, and sweaters. Later coats, belts, and caps were added.

AND NOW, HERE WE ARE IN 1976 CELEBRATING OUR NATION'S 200th BIRTHDAY AND THE "50th" YEAR OF SOUTH CHARLESTON HIGH SCHOOL.

DAY

South Charleston High School celebrated its second annual Appalachian Day festivities under the direction of the Home Economics, Sociology, and General English classes on October 24, 1975. In addition to studying past cultures, the students actually quilted, square danced, and made applebutter, lye soap, ice cream and medicinal antidotes. The proceeds from the SCHS fair went towards sending a group of 39 students and chaperones to Milwaukee's Bicentennial Fair.

With a 49-8 victory over Parkersburg South, the Black Eagles were on their way to the finals of the AAA play-offs. These athletes were the first S.C. team to ever reach and participate in the state play-offs. The 1975-76 Black Eagles tallied up the best record in the past thirty years and possessed the best offensive and defensive teams in the Kanawha Valley Conference.

SCHS TRAVELS TO MILWAUKEE

South Charleston High School traveled to Whitnall High School on November 5, 1975 to participate in Milwaukee's Bicentennial Festival. Our students stayed at Milwaukee's YWCA and saw many interesting places: the Milwaukee Public Museum, the Miller Brewery, and the Milwaukee Public Zoo. Other activities included a public square dance, a pizza party, and a swimming party. The highlight of the trip was when our South Charleston students demonstrated their knowledge of Appalachian folklore and skills by making apple-butter, churning butter, grinding corn, making brooms, lye soap, Appalachian foods, folk toys, and leatherworks.

Although preparation for the trip took many hours, the trip was exciting and will remain a part of all the memories that we have stored away in the year of '76.

Last Wills and Testaments

I, Cheryl Arnold, do will and bequeath my ability to make lay-ups without choking to Lisa Vanscoy and my 25 foot jump shot to Abbie Walker.

I, Gary Badgett, do will and bequeath my term paper writing ability to any desperate, victimized junior.

I, Terry Bare, do will and bequeath my lawn chair at the Grove to Kim Hanna; an axe to Robert Bunyan; a loaf of bread to Steve Miller; and a pair of wings to Mike Gibson.

I, Reese Casto, of more or less sound mind, do will and bequeath my inexhaustible poor taste, my wealth of sarcastic humor, and the motto "Never Work" to David Mead, who needs all the help he can get.

I, Phil Durden, do will and bequeath all of my senior privileges to anyone who knows what they are.

I, Chip Ellis, do will and bequeath the 11-bead mojo to Mark Solomon for "safe keepin' "; my Pierre Cardin cuff links to Nick Plesich; and my leftover cauliflower salad to Karen Harrah.

I, Randy Ewing, do will and bequeath my Ex-lax and plastic sweats to Wayne Richards.

I, Charlie Frick, do will and bequeath to Nick Plesich the color of my car, so that he may paint his bike with it.

I, Mike Galvin, do will and bequeath my endless wit to Dan Combs; my phlegm to Tom Jenkin; my #1 seat on the SC Drinking Team to Mike Hatfield; my love for football to Bob Alexander; my stability to Minsker; my Chorale tux to the Salvation Army (with apologies) and a box of rancid Motzah crackers to Dave.

I, Julie Hill, do will and bequeath my ability to "bounce" to Karen Harrah.

I, Steve Jones, do will and bequeath my great and accurate passing arm to Mark Solomon and hope it will be put to better use than mine.

I, Gene Kraft, do will and bequeath my job as manager of Gene's (driveway) to my brother, Jon, so he can put up with the Saturday night zoo.

I, Charlie Lee, do will and bequeath my gum to Mole and my typewriter to Miss Shaver, so she can give it to someone who will use it.

I, Greg McCollam, do will and bequeath my brand-new, shiney rollerball to Tiki Southworth in hopes that she will always keep it "Rollin' On."

I, Bob Pate, do will and bequeath my 23 pairs of socks to Robert Alexander, in hope that he will find room to wear them, and also my last jar of Coppertone Tanning Butter for those hot August afternoons.

I, Dave "Penguin" Peden, do will and bequeath the titles of "Penguin" and "Twirp Queen '75" to my brother, Mark; and the Bell Curve to Miss Beury.

I, Neil Rattigan, do will and bequeath to Marilyn Basham my golden voice, busy schedule, and unsigned petitions, plus a cutting torch to cut off the lock to the parking lot gates to the Class of '77.

I, Carole Saunby, do will and bequeath my title "Shorty" and everything that comes with it — pats on the head, keeping straight parts in my hair, and looking at people's navels to Janet Uhl.

I, Jamie Sibold, do will and bequeath my ability to get kicked out of the library and band to Mike Hatfield.

I, Renee Swisher, do will and bequeath the dollar that Debbie Collier has owed me since July to Kim Baughman — maybe she will have better luck.

I, Terry Taylor, do will and bequeath my highranking position in band, (my chair) to Becky Lyons; my well-fitted majorette uniform to Mr. Pate, (it will probably fit him better than me); and to Karen (snake) Harrah all the luck in the world here at S.C.H.S. (She will need it!)

I, Scott Thompson, do will and bequeath my Low Rider attire to Jon Kraft; my beach chair to Joe Bare; and my love for beer to Tommy McMillion and Chip Berthelot.

I, Nancy Titus, do will and bequeath my feathers to Amy Wright and my red dress to Sara Johe in hopes that she will fill out my position.

I, John (Polebender) Withrow, do will and bequeath all my catcher's equipment to Steve Miller, so that he will get in front of a ground ball without being too scared.

I, Donnie "meat" Woolwine, do will and bequeath my ability to stay out of trouble and a bag of Hall's to Elizabeth Turley Scherer.

I, Gary Wright, do will and bequeath all the clippings from my next haircut to N. David, so he can have a full HEAD of real hair. Also included is a copy of my first album.

BACCALAUREATE . . . A GLIMPSE INTO THE PAST AND INTO THE FUTURE

The traditional SCHS Baccalaureate, sponsored by the South Charleston Ministerial Association, was held on Sunday, May 30, at the First Church of the Nazarene in Spring Hill. Reverend Robert Pate, father of graduate Bob Pate, delivered the Baccalaureate sermon on the miracles of life.

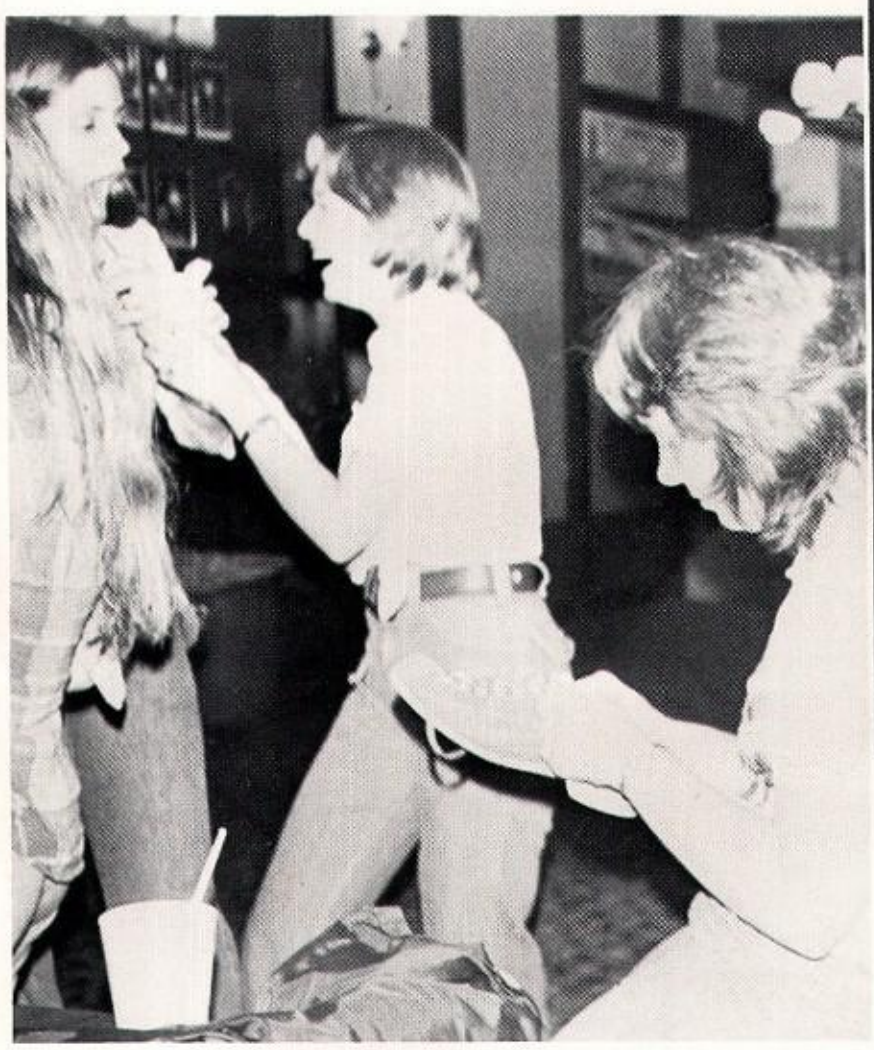
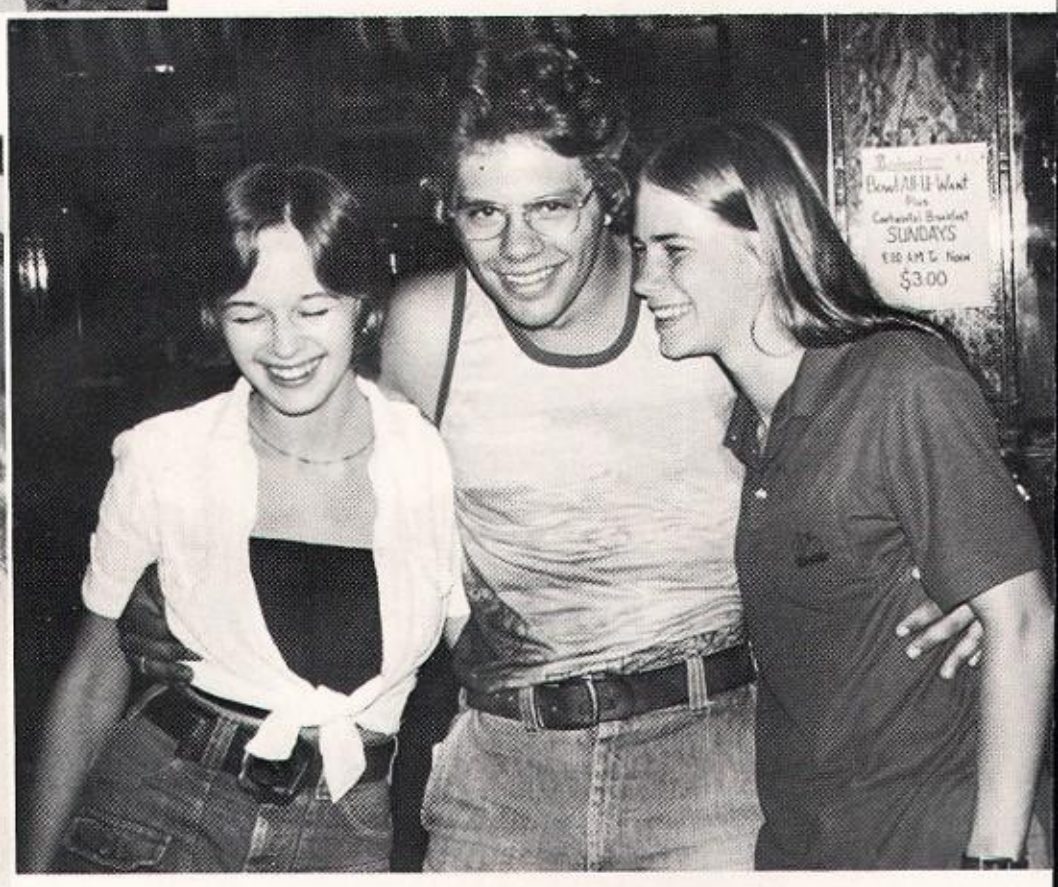
Bright-eyed and bushy-tailed.

Sit on it, Annie!!

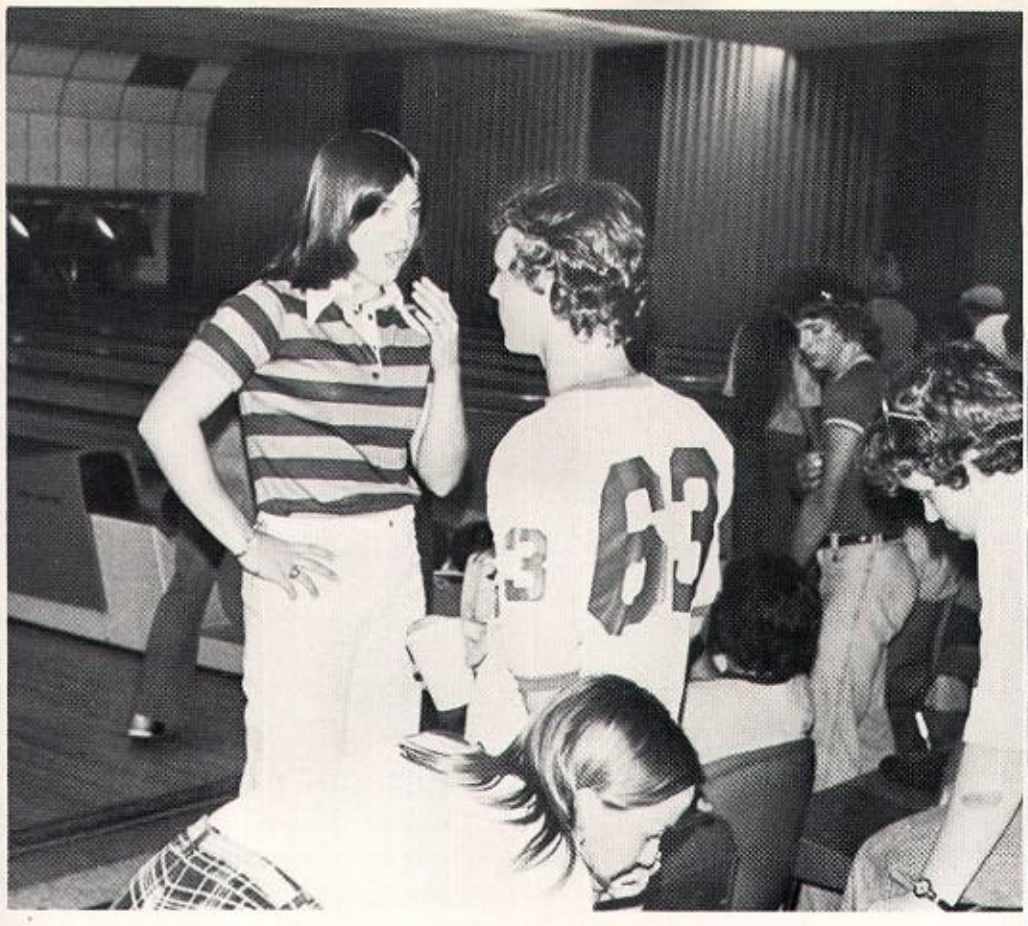


What should I do with this?



Do the Hustle, Mac!

The last get-together of the seniors before they go their separate ways — a time to relax with lifetime friends and recall the good times together.



Do ya really mean it, Steve?

Haven't you got it backwards, Rick?

HIGH SCHOOL BOWL

We're all proud of our state champion high school bowl team consisting of:

Katie Workman
Tom Cropley
Jay Whitehurst
Eric Hudson
Greg McCollam

The selection of this team was a long, competitive process. Anyone interested tried out before a panel of judges — coming up with the final five players. Tom Cropley was named team captain and Katie Workman was chosen as a permanent player. The other three team members alternated during the season.

And what a season!!!

Their victories included wins over Williamson, Buffalo, Magnolia, Sissonville (Semi-Final), and Huntington East (Final). The final game was won by the CLOSE margin of 205-95.

Our thanks to Miss Beury, Miss Holm, and Heck's who sponsored the entire contest.

THE SPANISH CLUB

We at SCHS are proud of our Spanish Club. One of our largest organizations, this club is well known throughout Kanawha County for its dancers and fiestas. The dancers have performed at local elementary schools in full costume. Much to the delight of the youngsters at Christmas, toys were collected by all Spanish students for the needy children at the Heart and Hand House.

Let's hear it for Señoras Forbes and Koehn and our great Spanish Club!

OLE

David Mead is an important Spanish student at South Charleston High School. He applied through the International Fellowship, Incorporated to be an exchange student to Columbia. Upon acceptance, he became the first SC student to receive an exchange fellowship from this corporation.

To defray some of the cost of his trip, the SC Student Council gave David a $300 scholarship. David left on June 6 and returned on September 3. While in Pereira (Risaralda) Columbia, he was the guest of Dr. y Sra. Ezequiel Madrid.

David attended a private school and his classes included religion, philosophy, chemistry, physics, calculas, Spanish, English, French, Columbian Government, mechanical drawing, math intensification, and sports.

Some interesting comparisions between American and Columbian culture were the price of gasoline (12¢ in Columbia!) and the fact that the people in Columbia are less formal and more party-loving.

Another interesting activity that the Spanish Club is famous for is the native dances that the students teach themselves. These dances include The Mexican Hat Dance, The Dance of the Little Old Men, Las Quince Primaveras, and an authentic Aztec Indian ritual. These students performed at many of the Spanish fiestas held here at the school and took part in a special television program.

Early in September the Junior Class under the direction of Mr. Fred eidman began to make its plans for the Prom to be held in the Spring. he students had several projects that helped make the Prom possible: ar washes, selling bumper stickers, midnight movies, and even making rops. Suddenly, on May 22, the Heart of Town Ballroom came alive ith Juniors and Seniors dancing to the music of the Eli Blue Band. All he hard work was worthwhile since the Prom was one that will never e forgotten and SCHS students will "never pass this way again."

WHITNALL STUDENTS PRESENT MILWAUKEE HERITAGE

Whitnall High School students arrived at South Charleston on May 12, 1976, and were the guests of SC students who participated in the Milwaukee project. Besides visiting our school, Whitnall students toured the Blenko Glass Company, and the FMC Corporation; viewed Hawk's Nest State Park and ate at the Greenbrier Hotel in White Sulphur Springs; and visited Morris Harvey College for swimming and recreation.

The highlight of their trip was a program in which Milwaukee's heritage was portrayed by demonstrations in German folk dancing, Norwegian wood painting, lumberjacking, and Ukranian egg-painting.

1976 MAYFAIR

"17th Centry England"

As in previous years, the Senior college-prep English classes put on the Mayfair as an alternative to the year end final. On May 7, 1976 the Commons Area was overtaken by Musketeers, singers, dancers, Puritans and Cavaliers, Oliver Cromwell, the plague cart, and various other characters and booths typical of the 17th century.

Margie Johnson has her legs shaved at the "Barber and Surgeon Shop."

Singers Melissa Henderson and Teresa Todd perform to the accompaniment of Bruce Gallagher.

Jay Whitehurst suffers the tortures of the Tower of London.

Coach Green . . . a Cavalier?

Roundheads 3 — Cavaliers 0.

Which one's the Maypole?

Mrs. Minsker crowns "William and Mary."

Two of the FOUR Musketeers!

Actors take a break between scenes.

Extra credit points were awarded to those students with the best costumes: Most Original — Kay Richmond; Best Costume 1st — Rosanna Steinberg, 2nd — Neil Clark, 3rd — Lee Miller. Although the students put on the May Fair — much of the credit goes to Mrs. Minsker and Miss Beury for their time, help, and patience. Special thanks also go to Sandy Goldsmith who served as overall-chairperson.

ODE TO THE END

by Chip Ellis

Everyone I know is leaving
One more time —
For the last time
I don't know why but I can't say good-bye
Not today
And not tomorrow
And not for a long, long time to come
As we turn to Fall
You know we're all
Going to be back where we started from.

Younger years were touch and go
But we won't have to think that way anymore
Bright-eyed and bushy-tailed and ready to lick the world
Headed down a brand new road.

Watch my luck ride on the farthest star
You know, I hope you all go far
For it's each to his own and when we're grown
We'll be left standing miles apart.

So, good-bye to all you crazy ladies
So long to the Madmen in the wings
And as long as I look back — the years —
They seem so dim
When I think
I don't know where to begin
It was so much fun
But now it's done
A sad way to begin
The end.

¡ HOLA PAULINA!

Paulina Fournies is our Amity Aide from Viña Del Mar, Chile. She has enjoyed every minute of her stay here in West Virginia with both her American family, the Titus', and with the teachers and students. "I'll never forget them, and it will be very hard for me to leave them all."

When she returns back to her country, she will study for two more years to graduate as an English teacher, but her goal is to be an interpreter.

She loves dancing, going out, and making new friends.

The Chile schools are very strictly disciplined. The students must wear uniforms and have no subject choices. For these reasons the high schools in the United States have been a new and interesting experience for her.

Paulina comments on the Spanish students and says, "Mrs. Forbes is an excellent teacher."

"More Reasons":60

ANNCR (VO): A lot of college students are taking Army ROTC...for a lot of reasons.

MAN ONE: With me, it all came down to one thing: I needed a scholarship to go on to college. And with an ROTC Scholarship...

they pay for full tuition, books, lab fees; plus they give you $100 a month to live on while you're in school.

WOMAN STUDENT: I like the idea that you're treated as an equal, whether it's in the classroom or in the Army.

It's pretty hard these days for a woman – even a college graduate – to start out in such a high position.

FOOTBALL PLAYER: Let's face it, the job market's really getting tough, and I know for a fact that... a lot of employers think an ROTC guy's got a big headstart in leadership and management.

ROTC CADET: You know it only takes about three to five hours a week...

and your last two years of the program you get $100 a month while you're in school.

WOMAN 2: Lately I've been considering a career in the Army. I think that as an officer I'll be able...

to contribute some of my own ideas, change things a little, make them better, you know?

ANNCR: To find out more write: Army ROTC, W. Va. State College Institute, W. Va. 25112
